Every classroom had to come up with a STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering and Math) project to show what they've learned about the world around them. (Arlene Allin photo)

He was married to Barbara Page in 1953. They had three sons and moved to New York, where he worked on several farms as a herdsman. After obtaining a degree in blacksmithing and farriering from Cornell University, he worked private duty and on the horse racing circuit.

Oblate Associates' First Commitment Ceremony, May 6 at St. Albert Church

A group of dedicated Catholic men and women from throughout the North Country will make their first commitment as Oblate Associates of the Missionary Oblates of Mary Immaculate, in a special ceremony taking place during the 4:30 p.m. Mass at St. Albert Church on Saturday, May 6.

The Oblates served at the Shrine of Our Lady of Grace in Columbia for 92 years until it closed in 2014 due to a lack of available younger priests and brothers to serve at the Shrine. The decline in the number of Pilgrims coming from the U.S. and Canada, and subsequent loss of revenues also contributed to the decision to close.

Oblate Associates are not members of a Third Order such as the Franciscans or Carmelites, who take vows. Oblate Associates make a simple, non-binding promise, renewed annually, to assist the Oblate priests and brothers in promoting devotion to Our Lady of Grace and performing works of charity inspired by the founder of the Oblates, St. Eugene deMazenod.

Over the past 20 years the North Country has seen a significant growth in the number of associate groups being formed, such as the Marie Rivier Associates of the Presentation of Mary Sisters in Berlin, who now count almost 100 members. Associate groups collaborate with and work alongside nuns, priests and brothers in continuing the mission of the church, which is to carry on the "charism" or the spirit that animates their respective orders. This charism is unique to each religious order. Associates are most often found in areas of the country where there is no longer a presence of Catholic religious sisters, priests and brothers.

Oblate Associates commit to regular prayer, service to God's poor, a simple lifestyle, and a community spirit of openness to others. They meet quarterly at St. Brendan's Hall with Br. Richard Cote, OMI, who travels from Lowell, Mass., to advise the group on spiritual matters and to help the Associates deepen their relationship with Christ and the Spirit of the Oblates. They promise to live the "charism" of St. Eugene deMazenod in the day-to-day realities of life. They strive to make choices that witness to the dignity of each person and have compassion for all God's people. They commit to making a one-day yearly retreat, which this year will take place at Presentation Hall in West Stewartstown on Saturday, May 6 from 10 am to 5:30 p.m.

The Oblate Associates' commitment ceremony will take place at St. Albert Church on Saturday, May 6 during a 4:30 p.m. Mass to be celebrated by Rev. Craig Cheney, Pastor of North American Martyrs Parish. The Rev. James Taggart, OMI, Northeast Area Councilor from Lowell, Mass., will receive the promises. Br. Cote will invest the Associates with a miniature Oblate Crucifix, similar to the large one worn by the Missionary Oblate priests and brothers.

All are invited to witness this extraordinary event, and more information about the OMI and the Oblate Associates may be found on-line at www.omiusa.org.

SERVICE IS THE FOUNDATION OF OUR COUNTRY

Since the formation of our country, Americans have always helped each other in times of need. There are many great service organizations in our country and one of them is the Lions, the largest service organization in the world with 46,000 clubs and over 1.4 million members.

We're also one of the most effective, as our members do whatever is needed to help their local communities. Everywhere we work, we make friends—with children who need eyeglasses, with seniors who don't have enough to eat and with people we may never meet, where there is a need, there is a Lion. Our motto is "We Serve."

The Lions were originally formed to serve their communities. In 1925 Helen Keller addressed the Lions Clubs International Convention in Cedar Point, Ohio, and challenged Lions to become "knights of the blind in the crusade against darkness." Since then, we have worked tirelessly to aid the blind and visually impaired.

Many people associate the Lions with eyesight issues alone, but your Lancaster Lions are involved in many more activities. We work with the schools on recycling. We visit the local nursing home, reading to the residents with the supervision of staff. We volunteer at the community cupboard and pick up eggs from local farms for the meal site.

We provide transportation to and from medical appointments for elders and the disabled. We collect gently used books and magazines for the hospital. We do roadside pickup, twice a year. We deliver Thanksgiving meals for Project Homebound and collect gently used clothing and toys and distribute them to local agencies. We distribute free books to children, award scholarships and collect eyeglasses for repurposing.

We volunteer for the Historical Society and cook for many functions, including the Street Fair, Old Tyme Christmas and the Grand Prix. One of our favorite services is going into schools and day care facilities, and screening children's eyes. Early screening is so important in the learning process—if you can't see, you can't learn.

We also assist low-income residents in our area with obtaining eyeglasses and hearing aids, and donating to many of our local organizations like the Food Pantry and Toys for Tots. One hundred percent of all donations we receive goes right back into our community.

We need you—yes, you! We would like to do more, but we need more members to help.

You can attend as many meetings as you want and we don't meet in the summer. You can volunteer for as much or as little as you want.

The bottom line is that we are all busy, but we pick our spots to help when we can and show up to as many meetings as we can—it is not a huge commitment. A little bit of help is better than none at all. We also, with more members, would seek out more service projects to undertake. If you have an idea that will benefit the community, let us know. You don't have to live in Lancaster to join us—our members are from all over the area, including Vermont.

We also would like to help start other clubs in the North Country. We are the northernmost Lions Club in New Hampshire and would like to help form other clubs north and east of us. If you know a group of people who would like to start their own club, we would like to help.

The Lancaster Lions meet at the Welcome Center on the first and third Wednesdays of the month at 7 p.m. You are welcome to join us and see what we do. For more information, call us anytime at 586-4449.

Grace Church Plans Scrapbooking Day & Raffle to Raise Funds

There are several fund-raisers going on at Grace Community Church in Canaan this spring to help pay for repairs to the leaking roof.

The ladies of the church are hosting a Scrap-Booking Day on May 6 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. The day will include a continental breakfast, lunch, snacks, games, prizes, a "make n' take," and a day of cropping, all for $30. Space is limited so those who plan to participate should reserve a spot.

The church is also hosting a raffle this spring. Poulin's Appliance in Colebrook has donated $350 off any appliance in the store. Tickets are being sold for $5 each and will be sold until June 3, and the winner will be drawn on June 4.

Christmas ornaments are still available for only $10 each. They are large, red ornaments decorated with a picture of the church. Those who wish to register for the Scrapbook Day or purchase a raffle ticket may call 802-266-3071 or send a Facebook message.

New Hampshire's Turkey Hunting Youth Weekend Set for April 28-29

New Hampshire's 2017 youth turkey hunt is coming up on Saturday and Sunday, April 29-30, the weekend before spring gobbler season gets underway on May 3.

To take part in the youth weekend, hunters must be age 15 or younger and must be accompanied by a properly licensed adult age 18 or older. The adult may not carry a firearm or bow and arrow. Youth hunters do not need a hunting license, but they must have a valid turkey permit ($16 for a resident, $31 for a non-resident). Accompanying adults must hold either a current New Hampshire hunting or archery license, and a turkey permit.

The special weekend provides youth and mentoring adults a quiet, noncompetitive time in the woods, where they can focus on safety, ethics, hunting methods and exploring the natural world. New turkey hunters and those working on improving their skills may want to watch a video and find more information on the Fish and Game Web site, www.huntnh.com under "Hunting" and species "Turkey."

WINNING ENGINEERS

The Technology Students Association team from Lancaster Middle School was named Best in State, based on a test and written essay on technology, and an engineering competition that involved creating a mobile machine from a box of miscellaneous materials and moving it along a course. Team members were Hayden Judge, Isaac Fuller and Austin Staley, seen here with the banner. (Arlene Allin photo)

WorkReady NH Program to Be Offered May 2-25 at WMCC's Berlin Campus

There is still time to register for the four-week, tuition-free session of WorkReadyNH to be held at the White Mountains Community College in Berlin from May 2 to 25. The class will meet each week on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Since 2011, more than 3,000 New Hampshire residents have sharpened their workplace skills and made themselves more attractive to employers by completing WorkReadyNH. This valuable professional development training focuses on soft skills and critical thinking skills, helping job-seekers, and those seeking career advancement, to improve the skills employers cite as critical to workplace success. The program helps participants improve and document skill levels and to articulate how their skills match those needed for employment or advancement. Graduates earn two credentials: the National Career Readiness Certificate and the WMCC WorkReadyNH Certificate.

"Whether someone is just entering the workplace for the first time or they have worked in a field for many years, the class has something to offer," said program director Judy Woodward. "The reviews from graduates and employers continue to be very positive. Graduates report that the training helped them to be better prepared for the job search process and to be well positioned for career advancement. Employers recognize the value of our graduates and we regularly receive requests for WorkReadyNH graduates to apply for open positions."

Registration is required, and those who wish to take advantage of this tuition-free training may call 342-3099 or 342-3007. More information is available on-line at www.wmcc.edu under the "Workforce Development" tab.

Openings Available for Vermont Conservation Camps

Youth 12 to 14 years old who want to learn about Vermont's wildlife and gain outdoor skills still have an opportunity to attend one of Vermont Fish & Wildlife's Green Mountain Conservation Camps this summer.

"We still have some openings at in the one-week camp program at Lake Bomoseen in Castleton and Buck Lake in Woodbury," said Fish & Wildlife education coordinator Alison Thomas, "and we still have openings for advanced course weeks available to anyone who has previously completed the basic course."

Campers participate in hands-on learning experiences about fish and wildlife conservation, ecology, forestry, orienteering, safe firearm and archery techniques, swimming, canoeing, fishing and more in an attractive outdoor setting. Natural resource professionals come to the camp during the week to share information on their programs and take campers out for field activities.

Conservation Camps open June 18 and continue until August 18, and the $250 tuition includes food, lodging and equipment. An application form—both on-line and printable—is available at the Fish & Wildlife Department's Web site, www.vt.fishandwildlife.com. More information about Green Mountain Conservation Camps may be requested at fwgmmc@vermont.gov or 802-828-1460.

Vermont's conservation camp program is run by the same Fish & Wildlife professionals—biologists, foresters, game wardens and conservation educators—who manage Vermont's fish and wildlife resources.
